Auburn Auburn University Police issued the following safety alert: Due to the Coronavirus (COVID-19) there will be changes to

Auburn University's common areas. The university will be enforcing a temporary policy to limit access to the common areas until further notice. Auburn University Police will be enforcing the following rules: · All buildings are closed, except for the library, Student Life and Student Recreation Center, and the main dining facilities. All other residence halls are also closed. · Library services will be limited to reading, writing, and reference. University authorized use of the university bookstore is permitted for merchandise provided by third parties. · Counseling services will not be providing services until further notice. · All dining facilities are closing and no food, except for the frozen dine away locations, will be allowed on campus. · Dining services for on-campus students are being provided by the St. Joseph Court kitchen in the library on campus · In accordance with state and federal orders, all events involving more than 50 people will be cancelled and/or postponed until further notice. In response to the COVID-19, there have been a number of unusual circumstances across the nation. There have been cases where seniors have been deemed “shelter-in-place” and quarantined to their residence halls. Due to the rapidly changing situation, Auburn University is asking any senior resident on campus to consider doing the following: · Leave campus for the remainder of the Spring semester · Consider cancelling plans for special events, such as graduations, proms, graduation parties, · Consider cancelling vacation plans · Consider suspending any upcoming commitments, such as job searches, interviews, etc. · Call your families and let them know where you are and what you are doing to keep in close contact with them · Eat at home to reduce exposure · Please be safe and drive carefully as you travel to and from campus If any of the events listed above are cancelled, please be advised
