2.3 and of course, you don't have the original iPod to save the music. First of all, you'll need to flash the firmware for your 3rd generation iPod. You can do this via iTunes, or from the iTunes website (there is a tutorial on Apple's website). Once you have a fully updated firmware, you'll need to save all your music from your old iPod, onto your computer. Then you will need to buy a USB cable, you'll need to plug the iPod cable into your computer, and you will have to take your old iPod to a store where they can program it with the new firmware. I hope that helps, if you have any more questions, please leave them in the comments, I'll get back to you. -JK

Deep sigmoid colonic diverticulum in a patient with chronic diarrhoea and faecal incontinence. We report on a man with faecal incontinence and chronic diarrhoea who underwent an endoscopy because of persistent complaints. The endoscopy showed a deep sigmoid diverticulum with a large herniated segment of colon. The segment was removed by a transverse left-sided colostomy without a resection. In the diverticulum, an inflammatory mass and a mucous granuloma was found. A biopsy showed a chronic inflammation with lymphocyte infiltration, eosinophil infiltration, fibrin deposition and fibrosis. This inflammatory process could be responsible for the development of the diverticulum, as well as for the symptoms of faecal incontinence and chronic diarrhoea.

Leo Colton Leo Edgar Colton (13 January 1876 – 9 March 1953) was an Australian cricketer. He played three first-class cricket matches for Victoria in 1897. See also List of Victoria first-class cricketers
