AITR technology has the ability to detect variations in fonts, such as italics, bold, non-bold text, standard text, superscript, subscript, handwriting, or any other character or characters that might appear within a given document. AITR is one of the most efficient and accurate methods of OCR. AITR technology can automatically extract all the information from within a document, including financial documents, power point presentations, resumes, forms, reports, business cards, invoices, pay slips, business proposals, customer contracts, emails, and many other formats. Don't have a mouse? No problem! In-Page Spell Checker allows you to spell check your document and mark misspelled words. It includes an advanced character recognition engine that allows you to instantly detect most common misspelled words and correct them in the document. It can even correct variations of common misspelled words. In-Page Spell Checker allows you to customize the detection engine to match your own writing style. You can manually add your own custom words or you can let In-Page Spell Checker guess for you. In-Page Spell Checker is compatible with all major applications. For example, you can use it to check your word processing documents, 1d6a3396d6
