
Bulbul Tarang (aka Indian Banjo) is a 15-string instrument common in India and Pakistan. The tool uses three sets of strings - double set . B.T. was invented and patented by the Indian musician Jaswant Thakar and his student, Pawan Singh, in 1847, but the instrument gained popularity only in the 20th century. Title "B.T." is a diminutive of "Bandar Tandoor", the name of one of the bass drum components used in the creation of B.T. Apart from India and Pakistan, B.T. widely used in South Asia, and even in South America.
