What's New in the AutoCAD?

CAD2CAM with 2D Features CAD2CAM with 2D now lets you export CAD models to the web, allowing you to share your models in a standard 2D format with a URL. Virtual Prototyping You can now prepare virtual parts with CAD2CAM in CAD. These are not hard parts; rather, you prepare the virtual parts in CAD so that when you import them into your CAM or CNC software, they look identical to their manufactured counterparts. Exclusive features Right-click Right-click on the 3D Cube Viewer, and the functions you've mapped to the right mouse button appear on your 3D model. You can use these functions on 2D objects, too. Add AI Files to Drafting Access the Automation Add-In, Manage Add-In Libraries, and Save and Load Add-In Libraries. Render to Cam With Render to Cam, you can preview CAD or CAM models on the computer screen, previewing 2D or 3D views of drawings. Design Layouts With Design Layouts, you can create and manage simple diagrams on your computer. Faster Shape Extraction If you frequently need to extract curves from shapes, you can now more efficiently obtain these curves. With the new extrusion option, you can now define one edge that grows and another edge that shrinks. More control with the App Bar You can now resize the App Bar with a mouse button, regardless of your resolution setting. The App Bar no longer scrolls horizontally or vertically when the resolution is changed. Export to I-DEAS You can now export to the I-DEAS format to save and share your schematics. Customize your App Bar The appearance of the App Bar is customizable. Quick Access to Help The Help utility has been improved to make it even easier to access online help. Solutions AutoCAD is now easier to use, because Microsoft Office solutions have been added to its "Solutions" menu. AutoCAD Solutions includes professional templates and content you need for CAD work, and now you can use this with AutoCAD. AutoCAD for Mac AutoCAD for Mac is now available on the Mac App Store.
