The screenshot shows a file download interface. On the left, there is a blue folder icon with a cloud inside, representing a cloud source. Below it, a rating of 6.4 is shown with five stars and the text '2885 VIEWS'. To the right of the folder icon, the text reads 'File was found and ready to download!' followed by 'UPDATED 14 HOURS AGO'. Below this, it says 'Fastest Source: useenet.nl' with a checkmark under the domain. A line of text instructs the user: 'Click the download button and select one of the found cloud sources.' A prominent blue 'Download' button with a downward arrow icon is positioned below the text. To the right of the button, there is a small lock icon and the text 'SECURE SCANNED'. At the bottom of the interface, a message states 'You need to log in before you can post comments.' Below this message are three navigation icons: a blue arrow icon labeled 'Navigation', a blue icon of two people labeled 'Registration', and a blue circular refresh icon labeled 'FAQ'.

Windows, Mac, Android and Linux...Iraqi Forces Step Up Operations To 'Liberate' Mosul, Calm Euphrates River, 'Start a New Century' Iraqi forces stepped up their operations to "liberate" Mosul from the Islamic State on Thursday, and were also pressing the group in other areas along the Tigris River. Kurdish forces, for their part, were "relieving" the Mosul airport area, in anticipation of the Iraqi government's operation in the city. Iraqi forces advanced further in the northern Iraqi city of Mosul, as the Islamic State threatened to launch a major counterattack. Alsumaria TV reports that the army and paramilitary forces are "advancing to liberate" areas north of the city and "rallying forces" to help in the push against IS. A battle group of the Counter-Terrorism Service has also entered Mosul and is reportedly "closing in on" the last IS-held districts in the city. The Iraqi forces are "moving from the east to the west" in an attempt to "seize the neighborhoods that are still controlled by the terrorists," AP reports. Iraqi Kurdish forces, meanwhile, were pushing IS out of areas along the Tigris River, near the north and west of the city, as well as in the Hamrin Mountains, which runs through the area. The Kurds are "relieving" several small settlements in the area, according to the Iraqi Kurdish security council. Iraqi forces, Kurdish peshmerga and popular forces were also "closing in on" the Islamic State's capital of Raqqa and the region surrounding it, as well as Baiji, as Al Jazeera reports. Iraqi Prime Minister Haider al-Abadi has declared victory in the city of Ramadi, as well, and has set a deadline of October 1 for the liberation of all of Anbar province, which is majority Sunni and which was once IS's stronghold in Iraq.
