
your long-johns.) Abode Of Peace, Saturday: the opening night of the festival is always a big do with lots of open-air bars and food stalls with cheap beer and party rings on every corner. This year there'll be everyone from a full cast of Robert Wilson's new opera to a splendid work about Jamaica, a piece about Norwich and an Arctic wonderland. Although we're not able to see it on opening night, the festival's new show with the Tyneside sound artist Professor Elemental will be playing over the weekend. Second Floor, Sunday: the group of people who run the festival, the Edinburgh International Festival Office, have got something big planned for Sunday night and 82138339de
