Can you be a model in just a few hours? Yes, you can! You don't need to go to a modeling agency or do complicated computer modeling. Model 4U is a new game that allows you to become a model by a few clicks of your mouse. The game includes 32 models with a total of 50 unique poses for you to enjoy. Each of the models comes with a different face expression that allows you to experience more interesting interactions than you normally would be able to have with most other model games. You can view the model details in a large size window. You can zoom into the area you want to work in for even better accuracy. You also can view the model in different angles. And you can feel the model move around. All models are fully rigged, so they can be moved in all directions. The modeling areas are customizable. You can turn on and off the distinct modeling areas for each model. The model can be set up to have an animation running for a set time so you will be always ready to pose. All the models are sold separately and you can buy as many as you like without needing to buy the game. The game also includes the work of our new artist, Viljami Hansanen. He has made just a few (4-6) new backgrounds and some new title backgrounds. These new backgrounds were not included with our previous models.
