HyperMotion Technology will be used in all forms of football and is now available for use in FIFA Ultimate Team. Player animation is a process that sees each player's position, direction of movement, animation timing, and on-ball behaviour customised to deliver more realistic, in-game player behaviour. Animation is an area where FIFA 20 shines, and we've done this by: Expanding each player's animation set, ranging from the flexibility of orientations, angles, and limb movement. Introducing unique facing animations for new attacking and defending behaviours. Adding more interaction with the ball, such as contact, spin on touch, and proper dribbling power. Improving player decision making, such as the manner in which players pass, receive and shoot the ball. Making the ball more responsive to the player and delivering more on-ball control. Improving ball physics, changing shot mechanics, and injecting more subtle shots. Redesigning the running and sprinting animations, as well as delivering improved player responsiveness when sprinting. Making the ball react to the player and reacting in kind to player movements. Delivering better playmaking through AI improvements and more detailed animations. FIFA Ultimate Team

The Real Life Player Motion Simulator (R.L.P.M.S) is the result of a global collaborative motion capture study involving the use of avatars and sensors embedded in the shirts of 89 professional football players for the purpose of studying and analysing football movements. Each R.L.P.M.S was filmed in motion for over 200 hours. A genuine technical analysis of the movements of these players has been performed to achieve real time, unique, high fidelity AI in the game.

FIFA 20's match engine boasts countless 'behind the scenes' enhancements, overhauls, and refinements that allows a more in-depth inspection of all aspects of the game. For this new edition, FIFA's match engine has taken a complete reboot to ensure up to date and meaningful innovation and competition features - we've saved the most significant details for a new generation of players:

- Constant Motion Seeking provides a more realistic way of attacking
- Reflection noise and physics-driven shadows
- New Player Instructions and OVR functionality now includes both an in-game vision system and new precise player attributes-based movement
- Realistic and synchronized audio-playing of crowds
- More realistic ball physics
- New animations to add more depth to gameplay
- Smaller animal heads and physiognomies to create small animated player models
- Improved Player Image Generation to create more player-like, animated player faces
- Real-time rainfall
