Aerosmith's Greatest Hits 17. digital LAB an image processing toolset for DOS. Visit our official website. LEADTOOLS on. Q: different outputs in print function for different methods of input I've written this program in python that takes values as input from a file(by reusing another program's function). The problem is that when I use raw_input the program outputs nothing. But if I enter the values by hand, or use getline method, the output works fine. f = open("Filename", "r") test = f.read() cities = [] counts = [] for line in test: if not line.startswith("{ "): counts.append(int(line.split(",")[0])) else: cities.append(int(line.split(",")[0])) print(cities, counts) raw_input('enter the value you want to add ') A: This is the case for raw_input() You do need to enter a value: >>> raw_input("Input value") Input value Here it is: cities = [] counts = [] f = open("Filename", "r") for line in f: if not line.startswith("{ "): counts.append(int(line.split(",")[0])) else: cities.append(int(line.split(",")[0])) print(cities, counts) raw_input("Enter the value you want to add") Q: Capistrano 3, different deploy.rb files for each git repository I'm trying to configure a deploy for 3 git repositories but have issues with the different deploy.rb files. I have a main project (also git) and each repository is a git branch off that. I want 3 different deploy.rb files for each repo. When I change my default values in each, cap will find the correct file and execute it without error, but only the main one gets updated (the other two are ignored). Is 595f342e71
