Q: How can I change the routing of an AJAX POST? I have a form with a hidden input. The value is set by the user clicking an element on the page. The value is a timestamp. The next step is to update a table based on that timestamp. The timestamp is currently in the route so I need to update it. I'm trying to figure out how to update the routing and no matter what I try I can't get it to be located. I'm currently using jquery and ajax and a route in the controller.
