The saying “The old is gold” is actually true. There are a lot of gold coins that have stood the test of time. Coins such as gold coins in the United States of America and United Kingdom are still very popular. The History of Gold Historians have learned that if you want to collect things that were used before the invention of money, coins are the best starting point. The oldest coins known to be made were found in ancient Egypt. From these dates, it is clear that this was a very long time ago. “ The oldest coins discovered so far were found in Egypt, dating back to approximately 3,000 BC. These coins were made out of gold and were used to settle payment of taxes. However, these were not the first coins to be made. Before them were a couple of things called Lion gold coins. These were made from gold to be put on the head of a lion. After them were the Copper discs that were the same size and weight as coins. These disc shaped things could be used as money and were traded across a very large area. After them were the Phoenician coins. These were the coins made from the Phoenician region. They were used all over the Mediterranean. The oldest coins known so far were made of gold and were used to settle payment of taxes.
